Itinerary

Day 1 – Delhi

Join your tour group at the hotel. Soak up the sights and sounds on an afternoon sightseeing tour of New Delhi. We'll see the India Gate memorial, built to commemorate the Indian soldiers who died during the Great War, and pass the official residence of the President of India. Later we'll continue to UNESCO-protected Qutb Minar, the tallest brick minaret in the world.

Day 2 – Delhi – Agra

Our morning tour concentrates on Old Delhi. We'll see the black marble memorial to Mahatma Gandhi and the grand Jama Masjid – one of India's biggest mosques. We'll also stop by the UNESCO-listed memorial to the Mughal emperor Humayun, the first example of Persian-inspired Mughal architecture in India and the historic Red Fort, the one-time residence of the Mughal emperor. In the afternoon, we'll make our way to the riverside city of Agra.

Day 3 – Agra

Have your very own Princess Diana moment in front of the white marble Taj Mahal today. This great world wonder dates back to the glory days of India's Mughal emperors. It took 20,000 skilled labourers to create this mausoleum and memorial to Shah Jahan's favourite wife, Mumtaz Mahal. Then, visit Agra's imposing fort – a walled city of palaces, mosques, halls and residences occupied for more than 900 years.

Day 4 – Fatehpur Sikri – Jaipur

Visit to the ghost city of Fatehpur Sikri, once the capital of the Mughal Empire. Although it lay abandoned and virtually unknown for hundreds of years, its palaces, pavilions, mosques and residences are remarkably well preserved and visually stunning. Later, we continue to Jaipur, known as the 'pink city' for its rose-red palaces.

Day 5 – Jaipur

A full-day tour of Jaipur reveals why this great city is considered one of India's foremost cultural attractions. After an early start, we drive up to the Amber Fort, a beautiful sandstone palace perched on a hilltop. We'll tour the fort, then head to the foothill lake. Keep your eyes peeled for elephants – they sometimes like to bathe in the lake. Back in Jaipur itself, we'll explore the City Palace (a fusion of Rajasthani and Mughal architecture) and the 18th-century Jantar Mantar observatory, and admire the latticed façade of the Hawa Mahal, or Palace of Winds.

Day 6 – Jaipur – Ranthambore

We'll make our way to Ranthambore National Park, known for its 1,000-year-old fort (which is surrendering slowly to the encroaching jungle), its picturesque lakes and, of course, its Bengal tiger reserve. An afternoon game drive introduces us to this magical park.

Day 7 – Ranthambore

Ranthambore National Park is a wildlife haven, and we'll head out in search of leopards, monkeys, birds, and sloth bears on two game drives today. As we take in the sounds and smells of the jungle, we may even spot the shy and elusive Bengal tiger – a greater possibility nowadays thanks to the conservation work of the Ranthambore Foundation.

Day 8 – Ranthambore – Delhi

Rail travel is a huge part of life in India, so including a train journey on our Golden Triangle tour was a must. We'll drive to the station at Sawai Madhopur and board a train to Delhi, speeding through towns, cities and countryside en route to the capital.

Day 9 – Delhi

Say goodbye to your tour group for your onward travel.
